

Norwich Bulletin
and Confederate
120 YEARS OLD
Subscription price 25c a week; 50c a month; $4.00 a year.
Entered at the Postoffice at Norwich, Conn., as second-class matter.
Postpaid outside of New England.
Published by the Bulletin Publishing Co., 25-27 William Street, Norwich, Conn.
Telephone 210.
Norwich, Monday, May 15, 1916.

The Circulation of The Bulletin
The Bulletin has the largest circulation of any paper in Eastern Connecticut and from three to four times larger than that of any in the state.
It is delivered to over 2,000 of the 4,053 houses in Norwich and read by almost three percent of the people. In Windham it is read by over 900 people. In Putnam and Danbury to over 1,100, and in all of these places it is read by a large percentage of the population.
The Bulletin is sold in every town and on all of the R. F. D. routes in Eastern Connecticut.

CIRCULATION

1901, average.....	4,412
1905, average.....	5,920
May 15.....	9,184

STRENGTHENING THE NAVY.

In spite of the need of increasing the naval strength of this country in order to contribute to its protection and to thereby give greater assurance of peace, little progress is being made. It was only a few weeks ago that attention was called to the fact that the ships of the active fleet were insufficiently manned to permit of the practice maneuvers being the success that they should. There was a lack of officers and a lack of men which was particularly striking inasmuch as the claims have been made many times by the navy department in answer to the movement for adequate preparation, that the navy was in excellent condition.

In view of this situation and the demands which have been made for a substantial increase in officers and men in order that the naval vessels may have a proper quota of each, emphasis is laid upon the shortage by the announcement from Secretary Daniels that six of the battleships now in active service have been ordered into the reserve list. In order that month officers and men may be secured for the three new dreadnoughts. This means, if it means anything at all, that there is not enough men to keep all the ships of the navy in commission, but that there are not enough to operate those which would be called upon for immediate service in case of trouble. This is a deplorable situation, and particularly so since there has been no provision made as yet, except by increasing the number of middies at Annapolis, to overcome the situation. If anything in the way of evidence was needed to demonstrate the handicap in the navy department, this has been furnished by this action, which is but an admission that the navy is not in an efficient condition, and as such a method of manning new ships has to be resorted to.

ONE LESSON ENOUGH.

When General Funston was unwilling to answer the question, when put to him in an interview, concerning the probable effect upon the prevention of further border raids following Columbus had his demands for troops been met, there can be no question. He undoubtedly has his opinion on the matter and was fully prepared to give it, but for the sake of keeping peace with the family he wisely refrained from doing so. If anything in the way of evidence was needed to quickly show out as fault finding where superior officers are concerned, this is it. That he has been handicapped by lack of troops cannot be questioned, and there is no other reason for failure to establish a better border patrol. Instead of backing up our position by an army which could properly handle the situation there has been more to that old story of the nation's defense. Notes have been exchanged and conferences held, but no progress has been made, and it is not surprising that word is brought here from Mexico that the situation there is still in the hands of the nation's defense. The Mexican people are not in a position to carry out the task which is assigned and he should have known when they will do the most good.

RECOGNIZING HUMANITY'S NEEDS.

Some of the worst instances of neglect and destitution are to be found in those parts of Europe over which the war has swept. People have been left homeless, with little or no food and without means of providing any. Property has been destroyed, families have been broken up and desolation and suffering have taken the place of peace and contentment.

That the responsibility for the care of these people rests to a large degree with the country which has, by its military forces, taken possession of such sections must be recognized, but it is evident in the cases of Belgium and Poland that such is not being done. Belgrade has from the start of the war received help from all quarters of the globe, and at the same time the various cities have been forced to pay large sums to the invaders.

This matter of relief, however, is one which cannot be overlooked and it represents same action when it is announced from London that the British government has agreed to permit the shipment of food supplies to the Rockefeller Foundation to overcome the deplorable condition in Poland. When it is declared that Germany is going to make a contribution of 15,000,000 marks for the purpose of relieving the famine in Poland, it is considered the London daily.

Eastern Connecticut has forty-nine towns, one hundred and sixty-five postoffice districts, and sixty rural free delivery routes.

The Bulletin is sold in every town and on all of the R. F. D. routes in Eastern Connecticut.

THE LONGEST WAY AROUND.

Now that the Russian reinforcements for the allies fighting in France have been safely landed, it becomes known that the route which has been considered the most likely to be taken by such transports is the one which was actually followed. Those who directed the transportation apparently followed the old adage that the longest way around is the surest way home.

It was the popular belief that the Russian troops had been placed aboard the ships at some Arctic port. In spite of the fact that such ports are adding to the ice bound at this period of the year, it was believed that some method had been devised whereby such a handicap had been overcome. The route was not the shortest of the new ports and that the transports had proceeded through the Atlantic by giving the war zone a wide berth, slipped into the Mediterranean and headed for Marseille.

The report that a transport carrying Russians had been sunk in the east end of the Mediterranean gave the first inkling that such a guess at the route was wrong, but the admission now made that the unarmed men had been sent overland to the Manchurian port of Dairen and from there by boat an even longer distance along the Asiatic coast. Such a route was not the shortest of the new ports and that the transports had proceeded through the Atlantic by giving the war zone a wide berth, slipped into the Mediterranean and headed for Marseille.

It is even indicated that Germany was among the movement but that it was a purely accidental circumstance, a fact which is attributable in no small degree to the maneuvering of the transport fleet.

Being unused, however, it is clearly shown that the contention that Russia had an abundance of men, while France has the equipment was right, and it has now been shown that the plan of getting them together has been successful. The conditions will soon be such, however, that future expeditions may take another route.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The man on the corner says: Many trains of thought frequently miss connection.

The clouds of dust make it evident that the trips of the oiling carts cannot be much longer delayed.

The opposing armies at Verdun are making about as much progress as do some people at the game of chess.

Even though the season is backward the man with the lawn to mow doesn't experience any letting up in his duties.

The Mexicans continue to show their contempt for the United States army by an almost daily raid across the border.

When Ireland has time to think it over, it cannot fall to reach the conclusion that the recent revolt was a gross waste of human life.

The time appears to be ripe for the decoration of the commander of the Sussex with the Order of the Black Flag.

From the way in which they have been trying to settle up affairs over in Dublin, Premier Asquith has gone to that city in an effort to make them settle down.

When William Jennings Bryan announces that he will do everything possible for Mr. Wilson's reelection, it is like embarrassing him with another "God bless you."

Austria now claims that Russia's losses in the war reach six million, but the point hasn't been reached where the number of casualties has forced any of the belligerents to quit.

Inasmuch as Great Britain has agreed to pass supplies to the starving Poles, it has no reason to stop the sending of Red Cross supplies to the war sufferers of both sides who happen to be in Germany.

Even though the congressional conference committee decides on a peace army of over 200,000 men, there is plenty of evidence that many in the nation's "appropriate" punishment which that decision will bring.

That Los Angeles widow and four children who have just been awarded the proceeds of an estate amounting to six cents will not get as much satisfaction out of it as did a certain colonel from a similar court verdict.

Captain Boy-Ed, who was recalled at the request of the United States has been honored by being awarded the Order of the Red Eagle. That may be the "appropriate" punishment which that decision will bring.

It is after waiting to be forced to send punitive expedition into Mexico because steps were not taken which could have prevented it, it is still said that this country does not possess the necessary "appropriate" punishment to carry out the task which is assigned and he should have known when they will do the most good.

WOMAN IN LIFE AND IN THE KITCHEN

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Do not throw away the coarse, green celery leaves. Dry them they make very good flavoring for soups.

It is much better to remove the skins from all fruit to be eaten by children.

It is convenience in travelling to have a broad band of color painted on your trunk.

Rub the shoe-covered table with a cloth dipped in vinegar. It will keep it bright.

Do not allow ashes to collect in the ash-pail; they will cause the grate to burn out quickly.

Frozen potatoes can be made eatable if they are soaked in water three days before cooking.

Painted woodwork can be satisfactorily washed by dissolving baking soda in warm water.

Put a pair of old gloves in the shoe box to keep the hands clean when polishing shoes.

Cayenne pepper sprinkled on every shelf and in every crevice is said to drive mice away.

Open shelves should be avoided in kitchen as they are almost impossible to keep them free from dust.

Stale macaroni makes a delicious addition to puddings and can be pulverized and sprinkled over the top.

It is convenient to keep a bottle of common shot on the sink shelf for use when cleaning bottles or glass jars.

A dry-cleaning fluid which will remove grease spots from clothing and in which most delicate silks and laces may be washed without injury. Alcohol one and a quarter ounces, bay rum one-eighth ounce, oil of wintergreen one-half ounce, aqua ammonia one-eighth ounce, chloform one-eighth ounce and sulphuric ether one-half ounce. Add one gallon of gasoline. Keep closely covered and away from fire. Use out of doors. Hang garments in open air until all odor disappears. Do not throw fluid away, but let stand (covered) until all dirt has been poured off and put away to use again.

A CLEANSING FLUID.

A beauty specialist once said that whenever she saw a woman with a skin which was anything but clear, she knew for a certainty that that woman did not drink enough water. The same cause which results in the drying of the apple, orange or the case of the dried skin-lack of water.

FOR INJURY FROM RUSTY NAIL.

When anyone is injured by running a nail into the flesh, hold the nail in the wound as soon as possible and it will prevent the poisonous effect, and little, if any, soreness will be the result.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

For an annoying tickling in the throat an application of hot glycerine is among the most effective and is covered with warm flannel gives relief.

A strong advocate of deep breathing says that by its practice she cured herself of nervous headache, neuralgia in the face, stiffness from rheumatism, cold in the head and insomnia.

If beds received more attention there would be less of the tired feeling in the morning. The bed should be the most hygienic piece of furniture in the house. It should be well aired and changed immediately after the occupant leaves it.

Cats and rabbits not infrequently suffer from diphtheria and tuberculosis, cats especially prone to tuberculosis. The animal may be ill for some time without showing much attention to its condition. For the onset of this disease is often insidious. A writer on this subject has recently pointed out the danger of parasites from animals. Ringworm is said sometimes to be contracted from cats.

When the nails are manicured every five minutes are usually sufficient, for in this way they are in good condition and are not too long. The cuticle is gently pushed back with an orangewood stick dipped in cream or olive oil. The edges of the nails are smoothed and shaped into an oval. The finger is then held in the palm of the other hand and the nail is pushed back with the thumb. The quickest method of cleaning the nails is by using the nail brush. A little soap and water is rubbed into the base of the nail under the flesh. The brush is then used to clean the nail and incidentally imparts a healthy appearance and lustre.

COLD SORES.

A simple treatment for the bothersome cold sore is the application of spirits of camphor or peroxide frequently to the sore spot to check the progress of the sore. Apply the peroxide, camphor or alum every half hour or so to an incipient cold sore will sometimes check its spread. The appearance of a cold sore should be the signal for an immediate clearing and cleansing of the colon and a reduction of the amount of food taken.

NO FASHION IN BEAUTY.

Fashions change, but the essentials of life remain unchanged through generations and centuries. So it is with beauty. The beauty of yesterday is the beauty of to-morrow. A woman may wear her hair in different styles from time to time, but beauty is more than skin deep. It depends on the inner self. To cultivate the physical beauty and perfection that count one must cultivate a most make good sense and truth a part of one's life.

The confusion of this busy age every woman should find time to be alone, to think and dream. If such time is not found the whirl of events will stamp out her individuality, her better self. She will lose the secret of beauty will go with them.

Five minutes alone every day is as necessary to the spiritual and mental life of a woman as fresh air and food are essential to her physical life.

DICTATES OF FASHION.

A fisherwife's sleeve is rather short and the cuff is turned back.

Washable beachcloths will be more or less used for summer suits.

The pockets of sports skirts are of extraordinary oddity and interest.

It will surely be a season of ruffles.

League now has a membership of nearly 35,000.

Women school teachers in New Jersey number over 15,000.

For every 100,000 population in Norway there are six divorcees.

Women are being employed in all munition factories of France.

Forty-one women out of every 100 marry between the ages of 20 and 25.

Over 40,000 women are members of the Garment Workers' union in New York state.

The University of Washington has one woman student who is studying engineering.

IT STICKS.

To remove paint from glass rub with hot vinegar.

If a shoe pinches in any particular part, a cloth wrung out in hot water and pressed over the shoe at the spot is one the foot will expand the leather and give relief.

MIGHT TRY THIS.

Chicken a la Hollandaise—Take out the bones of a large young fowl and fill up the space with nice forcemeat. Make a batter as for fritters, and when the fowl is half roasted pour the batter over the top and cook in more until it is thickly coated and a rich brown in color. Remove from pan, cut up with a fork, and serve on a platter, lay omelette fritters around the edge of dish, scatter some sprigs of parsley over and serve at once with melted butter and lemon quarters.

RECIPES.

Fried Egg Plant—Take a fresh purple eggplant, or oyster plant—peel one and the same—cut each in very thin slices, take off the outside, let them stand in water enough to cover them for half an hour, then dip them in flour, then in one-half hour before cooking. Wipe them dry, dip the slices in a beaten egg and then into cracker crumbs. Fry them in fat until they are nicely browned. Omit the cracker crumbs if you like.

Chicken a la Hollandaise—Take out the bones of a large young fowl and fill up the space with nice forcemeat. Make a batter as for fritters, and when the fowl is half roasted pour the batter over the top and cook in more until it is thickly coated and a rich brown in color. Remove from pan, cut up with a fork, and serve on a platter, lay omelette fritters around the edge of dish, scatter some sprigs of parsley over and serve at once with melted butter and lemon quarters.

OTHER VIEW POINTS

The late Superintendent Birmingham was like putting fertilizer on pigweed and using it in the garden. It encourages the worthless to the detriment of the honest seeker after work. Heartiness is done to the detriment of the honest seeker after work.

The progressive convention could not have been expected to abandon its pet fetish without a struggle, but it discloses considerable common sense and a willingness to accept the present time is to see that there is a union of republican and progressive forces that will make it victory in the fall election. It can cling, if it pleases, to its desire to secure the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt, but there are indications that after it has been made clear that he cannot be nominated nor elected, it will be willing to throw its support to the man who is the most capable of leading the party to victory.

Germany in its latest note has affronted us and we have to say that we are not going to let it pass. We have to say that we are not going to let it pass. We have to say that we are not going to let it pass.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

The charges made against Mrs. Amy Arch-Gilligan of Windsor, proprietor of a home for aged people, are of a character which should be investigated by the city for the regulation of intercourse between citizens, embracing the subject of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion. This is the wrong impression of a policeman and his duties, but it is an impression that has been made by those members of the police force who have assumed, with their badge and baton, all the authority that goes with the shadow of his suspicion.

WOMEN'S STOMACH TROUBLES

The Great Woman's Medicine Often Just What Is Needed.

We are so used to thinking of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a remedy exclusively for female ailments that we are apt to overlook the fact that it is one of the best remedies for disorders of the stomach.

For stomach trouble of women it is especially adapted, as it works in complete harmony with the female organism, since it contains the extracts of the best tonic roots and herbs. It tones up the digestive system, and increases the appetite and strength. Here is what one woman writes showing what this medicine does:—

Newfield, N. Y.—"I am so pleased to say I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as an economical and beneficial remedy in most ailments pertaining to women. At least I found it so by only taking two bottles. I had indigestion in a bad form and I am now feeling in the best of health and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. BURN WILLIAMS, R. D. No. 29, Newfield, N. Y.

Many women suffer from that "all gone feeling," and "feel so faint," while doing their work. Ten chances to one their digestive system is all out of order. A tablespoonful of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after each meal should completely remedy this condition in a few days.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"I am so pleased to say I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as an economical and beneficial remedy in most ailments pertaining to women. At least I found it so by only taking two bottles. I had indigestion in a bad form and I am now feeling in the best of health and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. BURN WILLIAMS, R. D. No. 29, Newfield, N. Y.

Many women suffer from that "all gone feeling," and "feel so faint," while doing their work. Ten chances to one their digestive system is all out of order. A tablespoonful of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after each meal should completely remedy this condition in a few days.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"I am so pleased to say I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as an economical and beneficial remedy in most ailments pertaining to women. At least I found it so by only taking two bottles. I had indigestion in a bad form and I am now feeling in the best of health and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. BURN WILLIAMS, R. D. No. 29, Newfield, N. Y.

Many women suffer from that "all gone feeling," and "feel so faint," while doing their work. Ten chances to one their digestive system is all out of order. A tablespoonful of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after each meal should completely remedy this condition in a few days.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"I am so pleased to say I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as an economical and beneficial remedy in most ailments pertaining to women. At least I found it so by only taking two bottles. I had indigestion in a bad form and I am now feeling in the best of health and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. BURN WILLIAMS, R. D. No. 29, Newfield, N. Y.

Many women suffer from that "all gone feeling," and "feel so faint," while doing their work. Ten chances to one their digestive system is all out of order. A tablespoonful of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after each meal should completely remedy this condition in a few days.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"I am so pleased to say I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as an economical and beneficial remedy in most ailments pertaining to women. At least I found it so by only taking two bottles. I had indigestion in a bad form and I am now feeling in the best of health and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. BURN WILLIAMS, R. D. No. 29, Newfield, N. Y.

Many women suffer from that "all gone feeling," and "feel so faint," while doing their work. Ten chances to one their digestive system is all out of order. A tablespoonful of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after each meal should completely remedy this condition in a few days.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"I am so pleased to say I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as an economical and beneficial remedy in most ailments pertaining to women. At least I found it so by only taking two bottles. I had indigestion in a bad form and I am now feeling in the best of health and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. BURN WILLIAMS, R. D. No. 29, Newfield, N. Y.

Many women suffer from that "all gone feeling," and "feel so faint," while doing their work. Ten chances to one their digestive system is all out of order. A tablespoonful of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after each meal should completely remedy this condition in a few days.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"I am so pleased to say I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as an economical and beneficial remedy in most ailments pertaining to women. At least I found it so by only taking two bottles. I had indigestion in a bad form and I am now feeling in the best of health and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. BURN WILLIAMS, R. D. No. 29, Newfield, N. Y.

Many women suffer from that "all gone feeling," and "feel so faint," while doing their work. Ten chances to one their digestive system is all out of order. A tablespoonful of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after each meal should completely remedy this condition in a few days.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"I am so pleased to say I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as an economical and beneficial remedy in most ailments pertaining to women. At least I found it so by only taking two bottles. I had indigestion in a bad form and I am now feeling in the best of health and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. BURN WILLIAMS, R. D. No. 29, Newfield, N. Y.

Many women suffer from that "all gone feeling," and "feel so faint," while doing their work. Ten chances to one their digestive system is all out of order. A tablespoonful of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after each meal should completely remedy this condition in a few days.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"I am so pleased to say I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as an economical and beneficial remedy in most ailments pertaining to women. At least I found it so by only taking two bottles. I had indigestion in a bad form and I am now feeling in the best of health and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. BURN WILLIAMS, R. D. No. 29, Newfield, N. Y.

Many women suffer from that "all gone feeling," and "feel so faint," while doing their work. Ten chances to one their digestive system is all out of order. A tablespoonful of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after each meal should completely remedy this condition in a few days.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"I am so pleased to say I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as an economical and beneficial remedy in most ailments pertaining to women. At least I found it so by only taking two bottles. I had indigestion in a bad form and I am now feeling in the best of health and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. BURN WILLIAMS, R. D. No. 29, Newfield, N. Y.

Many women suffer from that "all gone feeling," and "feel so faint," while doing their work. Ten chances to one their digestive system is all out of order. A tablespoonful of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after each meal should completely remedy this condition in a few days.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"I am so pleased to say I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as an economical and beneficial remedy in most ailments pertaining to women. At least I found it so by only taking two bottles. I had indigestion in a bad form and I am now feeling in the best of health and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. BURN WILLIAMS, R. D. No. 29, Newfield, N. Y.

Many women suffer from that "all gone feeling," and "feel so faint," while doing their work. Ten chances to one their digestive system is all out of order. A tablespoonful of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after each meal should completely remedy this condition in a few days.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"I am so pleased to say I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as an economical and beneficial remedy in most ailments pertaining to women. At least I found it so by only taking two bottles. I had indigestion in a bad form and I am now feeling in the best of health and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. BURN WILLIAMS, R. D. No. 29, Newfield, N. Y.

Many women